Field Camp

Field Camp is a two-day weekend camp where campers and staff get to meet each other and to learn what Dano is all about. The adventure begins in the nearby mountains in Park County.

The weekend is dedicated to learning about team-work, making new friends, bonding with fellow wilderness campers and staff members through low ropes, high ropes, and bonding activities. Campers may also have the opportunity to rappel off a rocky mountain in the area, based on the time available.

The final part of field camp is an overnight hike at one of the area's high mountain peaks. Campers pack their gear, food, tents, and clothing, just like they would on the eight day trip. They hike approximately three miles to a camp site below the summit, set up camp and then climb to the summit. That night, they cook dinner on camp stoves, hang bear bags, set up tents and do everything like we will do on the eight-day trip.

Girls' and Boys' Camps

The adventure continues as the campers take on the seven-night, eight-day trip. The girls' and boys' camps are separate, but basically the same.

These expeditions take place in the Beartooth, Big Horn, or Absaroka Mountains, but no two trips are alike.

All the equipment and gear (tents, backpacks, camping gear, food, etc.) needed for the trips will be provided, but campers better be ready to have a great time in breathtaking surroundings!

Campers will be challenged to push their comfort levels to the extreme, while exploring and testing their social, emotional, spiritual, and physical elements.

"As a Dano Leader, I was able to experience the trip in a whole new way. I was able to see my campers challenge themselves and each other, and my leadership skills grew, as well."

Dano pottery

Dano Pottery is an example to bring the rustic beauty of the outdoors and woods inside. This pottery is unique with four outdoor and wildflower designs that offer a variety of color to your collection (Pine, IndianPaintbrush, Lupine & Bluebell).

Part of the beauty of the pottery is the handmade work as it is hand-thrown and hand-painted with a gold speckled glaze on a light cream colored clay. No two pieces are exactly alike as each piece is painted individually to give it its unique character.

All pottery is lead-free, oven-proof, microwaveable, freezer and dishwasher friendly. All proceeds go to benefit Dano Youth Camp. If you would like to order pottery please contact:

Joyce at (307) 754-2687.

About us

Dano Youth Camp was established in memory of the life and character of Danny (Dano) Ostrom.

While working in harmony with outdoor experiences, the camps seek to promote and foster the character qualities exhibited in Danny's life, such as responsibility, courage, compassion, loyalty, honesty, friendship, persistence, hard work, self-discipline, and faith.

We feel that our camps are unique in that we provide the equipment (tents, backpacks, camping gear, food, etc.) and the basic gear needed for the trip. The only requirement of the campers is to fill out the appropriate paper work, make a commitment to the time frame, bring along a few personal items, and be prepared for summer fun!

Dano is a non-profit organization that is funded through grants, donations, and the sale of Dano Pottery. We are a 501(c)(3) non-profit entity and are tax deductible.
